

Japs Report New Invasion By Yankees On Palawan

Manila, March 1 (AP)—American invasion of Palawan island, the occupation of which would go far toward sealing off Japanese holdings in the southern Philippines from access to the South China sea, was reported today by Tokyo radio.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur made no reference to such an operation in his Thursday communique which announced virtual destruction of the trapped enemy garrison of 6,000 on Corregidor island in Manila bay.

The enemy radio said that a regiment of Yankees—possibly 3,000 men—landed at 11 a. m. Wednesday on Palawan, 25 miles southwest of Manila.

"Violent Battle"
The unconfirmed report told of a "violent battle" in progress.

If substantiated, Palawan would be the 16th island invaded by MacArthur's forces in the Philippines. The island, 275 miles long and 25 miles across at its widest point, is the dividing line between the Sulu and South China seas.

In American hands it would place United States forces along more than a 600-mile stretch of the South China sea extending from Lingayen gulf on western Luzon in an arc to Palawan's southern tip.

Corregidor Cost
On Corregidor, a little more than 3,000 Yankees, comprising the 503rd Parachute Regiment and elements of the 24th Division, have all but wiped out an enemy garrison twice that size to pry open Manila's big bay. Already a cargo ship has entered the bay, bringing badly needed supplies to liberated but hard hit Manila.

MacArthur said 4,215 dead Japanese have been counted on Corregidor with hundreds more known to be dead in tunnels. The cost to the Americans were 136 killed, 531 wounded and eight missing.

Two-Thirds Of Iwo Jima Won

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, March 1 (AP)—All but the northern third of rocky little Iwo Jima was in American hands today as the Marines, their special supplies parachuted from transport planes, fought to clear the vital central plateau.

Front dispatches said the Third Division Devil Dogs already had crossed the plateau in places and were moving downhill for the first time since D-Day, 11 days ago.

The battle for the pillbox-studded central plateau was termed a decisive operation by Major Gen. Graves B. Erskine, whose Third Division Marines overran the main village of Motoyama, just beyond the captured central airfield, in a gain of several hundred yards yesterday.

They reached a third airfield, Motoyama No. 3, which was under construction when the Americans landed February 19.

The Marines had artillery, naval gun and close air support as they drove ahead more than 500 yards all along the two-mile battle line against the toughest, cleverest defenses encountered anywhere in the Pacific.

Associated Press Correspondent Jim Lindsey called the terrain "hell's principal suburb."

JUDGE SHEELY IS SPEAKER FOR LEGION WOMEN

Judge W. C. Sheely was the speaker at luncheon during the regular meeting of the four-county council of the American Legion Auxiliary held today at the St. James Lutheran church.

Using as his subject, "Plans for Returning Veterans," Judge Sheely pointed out the lack of facilities in the state for the care of mental cases among veterans.

The judge pointed out that the present mental institutions in the state are now overcrowded by 19 per cent, a condition which makes no provision at all for the returning veterans who might require treatment.

Approximately 40 women from nine auxiliaries attended the meeting. There were representatives from the units at Biglerville, Gettysburg, Littlestown, Chambersburg, Greencastle, Glen Rock, Hanover, St. Thomas and Waynesboro.

Mrs. E. M. Bittinger, of Hanover, president of the four-county district, presided at the sessions. The general meeting opened at 11:30 o'clock after an hour's meeting of the executive board.

Red Cross Tops $2,200 In First Hours Of War Fund Campaign Today

That Adams countians intend to lose no time in making up their $28,000 Red Cross War Fund is indicated by the subscriptions received during the first hours of the drive which opened today.

A $25 subscription from a Gettysburg officer who has for months been on active duty in Europe headed a $2,209.07 list reported by the Adams County chapter late this morning.

The officer is Capt. Donald M. Swope, who with his subscription, praised the Red Cross and declared its service to men at the front is invaluable. He is now in Belgium.

Industries Respond
Thomas H. Bateman, formerly of York Springs but for several years a resident of Philadelphia, again was one of the first to subscribe. Mr. Bateman's check, received several days ago, was for $100.

Gettysburg's industries also were quick to respond. Heading this group were the four furniture factories and their general manager, M. C. Jones, with subscriptions aggregating $1,000. Victor Products corporation, R. P. Funkhouser and R. M. Hoffman, $150; and the Gettysburg Throwing company with $50.00.

Charles H. Smith, general manager of the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Transportation company, delivered the $200 subscription of his company to the Red Cross office this morning. Checks from the Times and News Publishing company for $125 and from Hotel Gettysburg for $50 arrived at the office early.

Organizations Give
Fraternal organizations were represented among the first donors by the initial subscription of the Gettysburg Eagles for $100. With this check, received several days ago, came a letter promising more if needed.

The Gettysburg chapter of the DAR contributed $30 while the Marsh Creek chapter of the CAR several weeks ago sent $10 as did the Adams Electric co-operative.

Church organizations were included in the list announced this morning. Among them are the St. John's Lutheran church of Abbotstown with $17.08 which represented the Thanksgiving offering; the Mt. Taber church with $13.55; the Benderville Methodist church Week of prayer offering of $10.17 and the Benderville Time society with $11.06. The East Berlin Union service contributed $10 as did the Sunshine Guild class of the Heidersburg Lutheran church. A contribution of $7.10 from the Week of Prayer offering was received from the Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school of Benderville.

Other Contributions
The Fairfield district was credited with $32.61 from the early Fairfield scrap drives.

The fraternities and sororities of Gettysburg college are represented by $25 from the Delta Gamma Alumnae association and $10 from the local chapter of the S.A.E. fraternity.

This first official list of Red Cross War Fund contributors was issued this morning:

$1,000—Gettysburg Furniture factories and M. C. Jones.
$200—Gettysburg and Harrisburg Transportation company.
$125—Times and News Publishing company.
$100—Thomas H. Bateman, Philadelphia; Gettysburg Aerle No. 1562 P.O.E., and the Victor Products Corporation.

Worley Bill Is Passed By House

The administration-backed bill providing assistance for typhoid fever carriers unable to pursue their regular occupations, introduced into the Legislature by Assemblyman Francis Worley of Adams county, passed the House by unanimous vote Wednesday afternoon at Harrisburg.

The bill, which Mr. Worley said had the backing of social and welfare groups and had been endorsed by the state Republican Women's Council, was the first of four introduced by Mr. Worley to pass the House. He also is co-sponsor of another measure.

The bill, passed by the House and now headed for the Senate provides $600 a year for typhoid carriers who lack resources of their own. It carries the proviso that applications from such persons must be renewed yearly and could be suspended if the carriers refuse to take treatment.

Here And There News Collected At Random

One of the few father-son pairs in service from Adams county is Chief Warrant Officer William T. Timmins, 46, and his son Pfc. William T. Timmins, 20, Buford avenue. The former will complete two years service with the Seabees (U.S. Navy Construction Battalion), on April 15 and his son will complete two years service in the Army on March 4. He is with General Simpson's Ninth Army on the western front. His dad is home on 12 days leave from duty in the South Pacific.

Chief Warrant Officer Timmins, 46, is serving in his second war. He was a 1st lieutenant in the cavalry in the first World war and saw service in Mexico.

When the second World war broke out the elder Timmins decided to "see some action" . . . he knew his son would be in the conflict and he also wanted to serve. He tried to enlist in the Army but was rejected because of his age. He was then made auxiliary police for service with the Military Police which was open to reserve officers of the first World War. He passed all his examinations, but one, and was rejected.

Alarmed because of his reported physical disability he consulted two civilian physicians and specialists who declared that he was physically fit . . . that they could not discover the same "rejection" cause that the Army doctors reported. He returned to the Army and pleaded his case anew . . . requesting a re-examination which was granted. Again he was rejected. His civilian physicians again declared that he was not physically disabled.

Undaunted, Mr. Timmins applied to the Navy and he was accepted. Six weeks later he was in the Seabees. He saw service at Atlantic ports, in British West Indies, St. George, Hamilton and Ordnance Islands and at Kinley Field, Trinidad was (Please Turn to Page 8)

FARM BUREAU AT LARGEST ANNUAL MEET

Four directors were elected to the board of the Adams County Farm Bureau Co-operative association at the morning session of the eleventh annual meeting of that group today at the Gettysburg high school auditorium.

Today's meeting was probably the largest attended in the association's history. There were approximately 450 persons present for the session this morning, about 150 more than had made reservations, it was reported.

Those elected were as follows: John E. Biesecker, for the Orrtanna district; Harold Taylor, for the Biglerville district; Howard Schwartz, for the Barlow district, and D. P. Hykes, for the New Oxford district.

Hear Annual Report
The election was held following a report by the nominating committee, composed of Clarence J. Waybright, association secretary, Gettysburg R. D.; John Wilson, Biglerville R. D.; and P. C. Flesman, New Oxford R. D.

President A. C. Keefe, McKnightstown, called the session to order this morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. A. R. Longenecker gave the invocation and Secretary Waybright read the minutes of the last annual meeting. The president's address was given by Mr. Keefe, and reports were given by the treasurer, E. W. Weaver and the general manager, G. Harist Stambaugh.

Horst To Speak
The election of the directors followed and then Jennings B. Collins, manager of the Farm Bureau Insurance representatives, made his annual report. Beginning at 12:15 o'clock, luncheon was being served by the Shelter catering service in the old high school gymnasium.

The main address of the day will be given during the afternoon by Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture. He will speak at 2:20 o'clock following another talk on "Cooperation From the Patron's Point of View," by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools.

County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman also spoke briefly following the dinner. The Gettysburg high school band, under the direction of Edwin Longenecker, gave a concert from 1 to 1:30 o'clock.

SPEED SAVED PFC. HANKEY

With the Fifth Army, Italy, (By Mail)—Thanks to his speed, Pfc. Donald F. Hankey, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, was only wounded by a German mortar shell on the Fifth Army front in Italy recently.

Hankey, a member of Company B, 351st "Spearhead" Regiment of the 88th "Blue Devil" Division, had been ordered to lead the commander of a supporting organization to his unit's positions.

As they neared their destination, Hankey turned to the visiting captain and said, "This is a hot spot. Follow me—I'm going around this hill—fast." With that, they started to run.

A shell fell and both were thrown to the ground. The captain was killed, and Hankey, 10 yards in the lead, was wounded. He since has returned to active duty.

"I guess I'd rather be a runner than anything else in the army," Hankey said.

He wears the Purple Heart, Combat Infantryman Badge, Good Conduct Medal, and European Theater Ribbon with one battle star.

His mother, Mrs. Nora B. Hankey, lives at 38 Franklin street, Gettysburg. (A War department telegram to Mrs. Hankey stated her son was wounded October 4, 1944.)

THREE CRASHES ARE BLAMED ON ICY HIGHWAYS

State police from the local substation investigated three accidents attributable to the icy road conditions Wednesday afternoon and evening. No one was injured but two drivers were arrested.

The first accident in which they were called occurred about two miles south of Hanover on the Littlestown road in the afternoon when a car driven by Joel P. Parmenter of Framingham, Mass., skidded to the left of the road as he applied the brakes and ran into a second machine driven by Jerome B. Johnson, Catonsville, Md., Johnson had stopped because of cinderling operations on the road by a state highway department crew.

Total damage was estimated at about $50. Parmenter was arrested by the state police on a charge of reckless driving and pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned before Justice of the Peace L. G. Kuhns, Conowingo township. He paid a $10 fine and costs.

Driver Charged
The second accident occurred about 2:50 p. m. in Hampton when a truck, driven by Paul R. Seely, Baltimore, skidded around the Hampton square and continued about 400 feet along the York Springs-Hanover road before striking a parked automobile and coming to rest.

Seely said the skid started as he had trouble negotiating the turn around the square. He struck the car of Daniel E. Hartzell, of Hampton, police said. Total damage was estimated at about $50, and Seely was arrested for reckless driving. He paid a $10 fine and costs after being arraigned before Justice of the Peace David P. Hykes, New Oxford R. 1, and pleading guilty to the charge.

A two-car accident about two miles north of Gettysburg on the Harrisburg road was the third investigated by the police. It happened when a car driven by Kenneth M. Walker, New Oxford R. 2, skidded to the left side of the road and struck a second automobile driven by Ruth W. Townsend, Gettysburg R. 4.

Walker was traveling north and the Townsend machine was going south. Damage to Walker's car consisted of a bent fender, bent axle, bent running board and cut tire, estimated at $50. The Townsend automobile was damaged to the extent of about $75, police said, with a bent fender and the right front wheel being torn off. No charges were brought.

AMERICA HAS RESPONSIBILITY IN PEACE, FDR TELLS NATION

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, Mar. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt told Congress and the nation today that America will have to take the responsibility for world collaboration "or we shall have to bear the responsibility for another world conflict."

Mr. Roosevelt said he returns home from his long journeys "with a firm belief that we have made a good start on the road to a world peace."

Sitting in the well of the House chamber at a joint session of the two branches of Congress the President said in a personal report on the Crimea conferences that the Allies will not desert for one moment "until unconditional surrender" is won.

Must End Nip Militarism
"The German people as well as the German soldiers," he asserted, "must realize that the sooner they give up and surrender, by groups or as individuals, the sooner their present agony will be over. They must realize that with only complete surrender can they begin to reestablish themselves as people whom the world might accept as decent neighbors."

Unconditional surrender of Japan is as essential as the defeat of Germany "if our plans for world peace are to succeed," he declared, adding that Japanese militarism must be wiped out as thoroughly as German militarism.

Mr. Roosevelt went before Congress with his personal report on the historic conferences with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill at Yalta just a little more than 24 hours after his return to the White House. During his 14,000 mile journey to the Middle East, the President also conferred with Churchill and other leaders at Malta and at Algiers. In Egypt he conferred with King Farouk and with the rulers of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia.

Success at Yalta
The chief executive described the Big Three meeting at Yalta as a successful effort to find a common ground for peace.

"It spells the end of the system of unilateral action and exclusive alliances and spheres of influence (Please Turn to Page 2)

Attachments at the county jail said this morning that Brent remained a prisoner in default of the bail.

Brent was arrested last week after investigation by both borough and state police into the attack which is charged occurred near the railroad on Springs avenue February 14 about 11:25 o'clock at night.

One of the largest audiences to attend a hearing in Gettysburg for some time were present Wednesday afternoon. There were more than 20 persons in Justice Snyder's offices. Brent entered a plea of not guilty to the charge through his attorney, John P. Butt, Esq. Justice Snyder opened the hearing by calling on Borough Officer Clark W. Staley. (Please Turn to Page 2)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Associated Press War Editor)

The surging U. S. First Army, breaching German defenses within five miles of Cologne, placed that great Rhine city under siege today, and the U. S. Ninth Army by German account reached Grevenbroich, 11½ miles southwest of Duesseldorf.

The German high command said breakthrough attempts were repulsed on both sides of Rheydt, city adjoining menaced Muenchen Gladbach and 15 miles west of Duesseldorf, and at Grevenbroich, a main Erft river crossing.

In the east, Moscow reports said, there were increasing signs that large-scale Red Army operations had begun again across the Neisse river in the thick defense zone between that stream and Berlin's Spree. In the push toward the Baltic to the north the Russians crossed the Ihna river, defense line east of Stettin, the Nazi high command said. Moscow dispatches said a large section of eastern Pomerania already seemed to be virtually cut off.

GERMANS, JAPS CRY AS BOMBS HIT CAPITALS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The air offensive against Germany, which has swollen to unprecedented fury in support of the Allied forces for a knock-out, continued today and Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels is chanting that its "invasion" and "can hardly be borne," though Hitlerdom won't quit. Similarly in the war of the Pacific, aerial assault against Japan is intensifying to terrifying proportions as we close in. The German and Japanese capitals—next to London and New York the world's greatest cities—have of necessity become focal points in the attacks. Tokyo—with its population of 7,000,000 and its firmly built houses—has come under American bombing in a big way. The Japanese government is deeply worried, especially since explosives have fallen close to the royal palace. The Mikado is not only temporal ruler—he is god. Berlin—Hitler's once arrogant but now frightened capital, crowded with war-time population of 5,500,000—undergoing the fiercest air attacks ever administered to any great city. It was under fire again last night, the Fuehrer, lacking the Mikado's attitude, has fled. Japan—which deliberately bombs civilians (as in Nanking) and practices rape, torture and murder—is backed that we should lay hands in Tokyo. Germany—whose atrocities have made Attila look like a benefactor—has branded British and American airmen as the "huns of the air."

Observe Rules

Well, are we right or are we wrong in bombing Tokyo and Berlin? The answer is that despite enemy charges, the Allies are adhering to the Hague Convention which forbids the deliberate bombing of civilians. Our bombs are directed at prime military objectives.

However, it's obvious that you can't pour 6,000,000 pounds of bombs, including half a million incendiaries, into a city—as American bombers did to Berlin the first of the week—without a lot of civilians getting hurt. Stockholm reports that this raid caused between 25,000 and 30,000 casualties. Of course Tokyo is even more vulnerable because its structures are so inflammable.

Both these cities are crisscrossed with military objectives. Berlin not only is Hitler's transportation hub but it's one of his vital war production centers. Tokyo houses many of the nation's greatest war industries. These objectives must be knocked out, and it's impossible to avoid killing civilians in the process.

Well, who hesitates because of that? The Allies certainly won't stay their hands, although they do intend to conform to the international convention which, in effect, lays down the code that in total war civilians must be immune from deliberate terror bombing while soldiers are not. Maybe it hurts a civilian more than it does a man in uniform.

Problems Posed

The idea of international law is—of course quite right—that any code which lessens human suffering in war is some advance towards humanity. However, it does seem mighty strange that a world which must settle its arguments by such an inhuman method as war should be so concerned to protect civilians, while sending the cream of its youth onto the battlefield to be sacrificed. But maybe we had better not go into that too deeply.

Naturally, with bombs falling near the Mikado's palace, the question is arising as to what the effect would be on Japan if he were killed. That's a point of vast importance, but one which we cannot answer, and consequently is something many observers wouldn't like to see happen. After all, however silly it may seem to some, Hirohito is a god to his people. The case of Hitler, alias Shicklebush, is different. The sooner he is dead, the better for humanity. Anyway, he's an active military man.

Only Nine Couples Licensed Last Month

Cupid fell below his usual standard in the Valentine month with the result that only nine marriage licenses were issued during February at the office of Clerk of the Courts Mrs. Howard W. Sheffer.

During January, 12 licenses were handed out. Last month's total was markedly lower than the record February issue of 20 marriage permits in 1944. But then, last year was leap year.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

Paoshan, China, (AP)—Hwelling-shan a gray-green 4,000-foot mountain, has become a monument to one of the greatest Chinese-American achievements in the coordination of air and artillery support with an infantry assault.

This great mass, rising 2,500 feet above the floor of the Chefang valley, from whence it dominates the Burma road about six miles northwest of Wanting, has looked down upon the passage of armies and caravans throughout the centuries and probably has been a "hill feature" innumerable times in the forgotten wars of the past. In this war it was the key position in the battle for Wanting.

In numbers of men, guns and planes employed, Hwellingshan was a battle in miniature, but in its implications for the China theater it bulks large.

Infantry Dug In
The Japanese 56th Division fell back to prepared positions before Wanting late in December. Hwellingshan was their anchor, providing a series of elevated positions from which their artillery controlled valley floors.

The Chinese Expeditionary Force had been held nearly white by seven months of campaigning through some of the most formidable terrain in the world. Hwellingshan stood in the path of Looping's troops down the Chefang valley in scattered lines. Enemy cannon raked the road and flatlands. Machineguns and mortars turned back all attempts to gain the summit. Finally, two regiments dug in on the lower slopes.

The Loopings (Chinese infantrymen) assaulted the mountain positions repeatedly, only to be cut down in their tracks. P-40 pilots of the U. S. 14th Air Force's western composite wing witnessed these futile attempts during their strafing and bombing attacks on the mountain-top. It seemed as if Hwellingshan might consume what was left of the CEP.

An Idea Is Born
But up to then the 14th had loaned only a few planes in support. Aground, separation of command had prevented a mass concentration of 75mm. guns which the United States had furnished the CEP along with instructors.

Along about the second week in January an idea was born, stemming from the picture of futility the P-40 pilots had seen.

Lt. Col. John C. Habecker, 30-year-old West Pointer (class of '39, whose wife lives at Cucamonga, Calif.), commander of the western echelon of the 14th western wing, and Col. John K. Selles, of Lompoc, Calif., who holds the western command of the American ground forces liaison setup, were in the habit of having weekly dinners attended by a few subordinates. They talked shop over little eels sizzled in deep fat, bamboo shoots, mushrooms in brown sauce and the like.

Air Power Assembled

Once Habecker wondered aloud what air and ground liaison could do with larger air missions. Maj. John J. (Packy) Pakula, of Worcester, Mass., was the air-ground officer with Col. John H. Stodter's liaison group, attached to the Chinese. Pakula was an expert at "talking" planes to their targets.

Sells relayed the inquiry to Stodter and Pakula. The answer: "Plenty!" Habecker briefed the pilots, had them look over Hwellingshan on their return from other missions. January 10 was picked.

There were P-51's and P-40's carrying fragmentation and fire bombs and other explosives; P-38's with 1,000-pounders; B-25 bombers.

398 Dead Japs

One P-51 carried Sells in a pick-a-back seat behind Habecker. It went in first on the target with bombs and then circled while the others attacked. A pair of light planes for artillery spotting and for directing air attack also hovered around Hwellingshan. Pakula was on the air and the artillery was marking the targets with white smokehells. The attack lasted 40 minutes.

The Chinese clung to their trenches and foxholes while bombs landed only 300 yards away. They waited for the moment to storm upward, which didn't come until after the greatest concentration of Chinese cannonading ever known.

At 4:30 p. m. January 10, Hwellingshan was in Chinese hands and the 400 Japanese who had held it were dead, all but two who were found staggering about babbling and glassy-eyed.

New York, March 1 (AP)—New York university's Violets established a new team basketball scoring mark for Madison Square Garden last night as they ran rough-shod over Temple university, 85 to 54. Inter - American Conferees Busy Mexico City, March 1 (AP)—Far-reaching resolutions committing the American nations to enforce peace, tighten their political bonds and cooperate to make the South American continent an industrial horn of plenty today appeared headed for approval by the Inter-American conference.

Principal among them is the "declaration of Chapultepec," which calls for joint American and Latin-American armed assistance to stop actual or potential aggression in the hemisphere.

The form in which the Chapultepec instrument finally will come before the convention remains at issue. It was learned on the highest authority yesterday that the U. S. delegation had drafted a compromise pledge to Latin America on the use of armed forces to crush aggression in this hemisphere.

This would modify the text presented to the conference committee Tuesday, which provided for automatic use of armed forces without reservation.

DICKINSON IS 41-21 VICTIM OF BULLET 5

Coach "Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college quintet closed its home season here Wednesday evening by drubbing Dickinson college 41-21.

The victory marked the seventh win in 11 starts for the Bullets. The final game of the season will be played with Albright at Reading Saturday evening.

Off to an unimpressive start in the first period, the Bullets led the whole way after a 3-3 tie and with the exception of the first minute in the second quarter when a foul by Seward knotted the score at 6-6.

George Shepherd, center, nosed out Bobby March for scoring honors for the first time this year when he tabbed 13 points, one more than the sharp-shooting guard.

Martini landed a one-hander for the Bullets after about one minute of play had elapsed. Neither team could show any offensive strength through the first period and the tries for goals flew wild of their mark. March landed a foul and Martini tied the count with a foul and free throw as he was fouled when shooting. Martini dropped through two charity tosses and a short time later added another. Shortly before the round ended Elkins netted a shot to cut Gettysburg's lead to 6-5 at the end of the period.

Bullets Forge Ahead

During the first four minutes in the second period the scoring was confined to foul shots by Seward and March. Then the Bullets began to show a little punch as Shepherd and March chalked up goals in succession. Andrew looped a foul and March tabbed two more goals to send the Bullets ahead 16-6. Andrew looped a long throw just before the half ended to give Gettysburg a 19-9 half-time advantage.

The Bullets dominated play completely in the third and fourth quarters and sent their score rocketing due to the foul tossing of Shepherd who accounted for seven points in the third round. Dickinson fought gamely to the finish although hopelessly outclassed.

Hanley Signs As New League Coach

Chicago, March 1 (AP)—The all-America football conference—a proposed postwar pro grid project—had its fifth coach in its fold today, with Chicago's entry signing Lt. Col. Richard E. (Dick) Hanley, former college grid mentor.

Hanley, whose collegiate coaching career extended over a period of 13 years at Haskell Institute and Northwestern university, yesterday signed a three-year contract as head coach and general manager of the Chicago club, one of the eight prospective clubs.

John L. Keeshin, Chicago trucking executive who owns the Chicago franchise, announced signing of Hanley in Los Angeles and also disclosed that his assistant would be Maj. Ernie Nevers, a former grid great at Stanford and in the National football league.

Contract terms for Hanley and Nevers, who is combat conditioning officer for the Marine Aviation Corps, said his salary will exceed his pay while coach at Northwestern from 1927 to 1935.

ARENDTSTVILLE TAKES 2 GAMES

The Arendtsville high eagles completed their regular basketball season Wednesday evening by winning a pair of games from Washington Township high on the Arendtsville floor.

Coach Blough's boys scored an easy 53-22 victory in their final tune-up before meeting Greencastle in a District 3 PIAA elimination game at Chambersburg Saturday evening. Pissel set the pace for the Apple Pickers with 18 points. The victory marked the 16th in 20 games for Arendtsville.

Bill Whiteley's girls had a narrow squeak in ending their season successfully, 29-28. It took a field goal by Esther Diveley in the last five seconds of play to turn the trick.

After a nip and tuck first half which found the Arendtsville girls trailing 15-14 at half time, Washington Township went ahead 24-16 at the third period. The visitors sent their lead to 26-16 in the final period before the upper continents began their winning drive. For Arendtsville it marked completion of a 16-game schedule with a record of 15 straight victories.

MAY ORGANIZE SWIM LEAGUE

Plans are under way to form a Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Swimming Association to function next indoor season in the event the war is over.

Jimmy MacAdoo, Swarthmore college coach and Turners' swimming instructor, said that the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate S. A. would supplant the former Big Five League.

The Big Five League, which curtailed operations in 1944, formerly consisted of Swarthmore college, Dickinson college, Gettysburg college, Johns Hopkins university and Delaware university. Loyola college was a later entrant. All of these will be members in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate S. A.

MacAdoo explained LaSalle college would be invited to become a member. Joe Kirk, LaSalle college coach and North Branch YMCA swimming instructor, said that LaSalle college would apply for membership.

Minors Seeking New Deal From Majors

Chicago, March 1 (AP)—A proposed new major-minor league baseball agreement and revisions in major-minor league rules have been completed by the minors' 10-man committee which is seeking a new deal from its big baseball brothers.

Tom Richardson, president of the Eastern league and chairman of the committee which yesterday concluded a three-day meeting, said a seven-man sub-committee would make recommendations for "numerous changes" in a meeting with representatives of the American and National leagues in Chicago within the next couple of months.

Richardson refused to itemize the "numerous changes" which his committee had recommended and said he believed the next move should come from the major leagues. The committee earlier had demanded that the minors have a voice in the naming of a successor to the late Commissioner K. M. Landis. On this committee were such former major leaguers as Billy Evans, boss of the Southern association, and Clarence Rowland, president of the Pacific coast league.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with a smarting and burning sensation shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for a can's Pils, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney aches fluid out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dose's Pils.

Shark Commander Was Pennsylvanian

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Commander Edward N. Blakeley, whose mother lives at Norristown, Pa., was skipper of the Shark, one of the two submarines the navy announced yesterday were overdue from patrol and presumed lost.

The Escobar, commanded by William J. Millican, was the other submarine. The navy did not identify the area of the submarines' operation.

Both of the latest losses were new ships. The Shark, built by the Electric Boat company, Groton, Conn., was launched October 17, 1943, and the Escobar, built by the Cramp bielski, Geneva; Rehnert, Lehigh; Semko, Lafayette; Theodore, Carnegie Tech; Wagner, Albright; Walters, La Salle; Wareham, Juniata, and Watkins, Westminster.

Shipbuilding company, Philadelphia, Pa., was launched April 18, 1943.

THE MISER

There was a man who feared that he Would some day come to poverty.
He worried early, worried late,
Lest need should be his distant fate.
And so, since fire is burning gold,
All winter long his rooms were cold.He frowned on comfort; scorned delight;
Held spending wrong and saving right.He kept his children from the joys
That lie in childhood's various toys,
And through long years of misery went To cling to coins he should have spent.Instead of love he gathered hate; Lost friends till none approached his gate.He jettisoned all forms of pride, Threw all that marks good men aside.Lived meanly through life's longest span Merely to be a rich, old man.

Today's Talk

NATURE'S GREAT BOOK

You can put almost any confidence in one who loves the beauties and mysteries, as well as the revelations, of Nature. Everything in Nature is dependent upon some force created by God in the first place. The animals and birds, as well as every growing flower, shrub or tree.The study of animals and birds, as well as insects, is a most absorbing one. The world has its great naturalists, who have devoted a lifetime to such study. Fabre's books on the insects is as absorbing as the most thrilling book of fiction. And among the birds are to be discovered more human traits than anyone ever suspects. Thrown upon their own resources, the birds and animals of the world draw upon all the courage that they possess—and they possess an abundance.What fine notes of inspiration stream throughout all the four seasons of the year. Each has its distinctive appeal. Spring with its freshness and its budding, its recreation and its promise, Summer with its full foliage and abundant gifts of fruitage, Autumn with its colorings and fragrance, and Winter with its snow and sleet. A great book, this Book of Nature, from which we can learn more than any school or college—an ever open book.It is from Nature that we derive our life, and most of our happiness.
And, finally, we lie down upon her breast for our long sleep. To Earth, our Mother, we are dedicated from the day that we first take breath.
How beautiful is each page in this great book. And from each one we learn our way of life.Another thing, the knowledge in this outer book of Nature is inexhaustible. Never will we be able to finish its reading. It has hidden pages, or let us say, uncut pages, that we are privileged to cut and read therefrom. The story of all time is written in the out-of-doors.
Millions upon millions of years have buried undiscovered secrets for our research and discovery.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Innate Significance"With Our

Washington, D. C.POINT COSTS OF BEEF, PORK CUTS
TO GO UP SUNDAYWashington, March 1 (AP)—A red-point food program, termed
"the stiffest since rationing began" goes into effect Sunday. It assigns higher values to a wide range of cheaper beef and pork cuts.The OPA, announcing this today, tempered the bad news somewhat with two and three-point-a-pound reductions for choice beef steaks and roasts. These, however, are scarce in most parts of the country.The general tightening up results, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said, from "heavy military requirements and the fact that hog mar-ketings are running below previous estimates."While prevailing point values for all lamb and most veal remain unchanged along with the current 24-point ration cost of butter, these boosts, for example, have been ordered:Hamburger and bacon go from four to six points a pound. So does beef chuck, up from three points.
Short ribs go from one to three points, boneless brisket from two to five, and flank meat from three to five.Among pork cuts, end chops are boosted one point to six a pound.
Boneless hams, whole or half, go from seven to eight points; spare-ribs from three to four, and fat backs, hocks and jowls to two points from one or zero. Loin roasts go from six to seven points.New Stamps Validated Many sausage products now ration-free will cost points again, as will a number of liver items such as braunschweiger and liver loaf.
Many canned meats, such as corned beef hash and deviled ham, either come off the point-free list or get a boost in ration value.In the few exceptions to the general beef hike, porterhouse and T-bone steaks, for instance, will cost nine instead of 12 points a pound.
Round steak is reduced to 10 points from 13, while a round tip beef roast will have a value of nine points rather than 11. A boneless sirloin roast will require 10 points a pound, down from 12.Five more red stamps—E2 through J2 in ration book four—will be valid for buying meats and fats beginning Sunday. They will be good through June 30.

1. Gather and burn all debris from iris beds, grape vines, and stone fruits affected with brown rot last year.2. Roll lawn sod while the soil is moist; rake and seed areas left barren from winter. But postpone major lawn building tasks and general reseeding work until early September.3. Where San Jose scales infest fruit and deciduous shade trees and shrubs, apply a dormant spray at once.4. Include at least one raw (uncooked) vegetable in the daily menu until the summer garden comes into production.5. Sow a bed of leaf lettuce in a protected nook along a sunny fence row or on the south side of a building.

Plant Sweet Peas

6. Prepare soil today for planting peas not later than the middle of the month.7. Seed of tomatoes, cabbage and broccoli should be sown under glass even before this date for extra early plants.8. Set out dewberry, blackberry and raspberry plants, rhubarb and horseradish roots, and complete fruit tree planting at once.9. Plant a bed of sweet peas this week if soil can be worked.10. Disinfect potato seed in mer-curic chloride (corrosive sublimate) before cutting to plant. This reduces scab.11. Wheat germ is now sold by many grocery stores. Add a spoonful or two to the breakfast cereal for health's sake.12. Vigorous one-year-old asparagus roots may be planted as soon as soil and weather conditions permit.

Spray Peony Shoots

14. Combat aphids (plant lice) with nicotine sulphate in soapy water whenever and wherever these pests appear.15. Garden beets are not injured by light frosts. Start a few rows soon for extra early crops for table use and market.16. Prune hydrangeas and bush roses before growth starts.17. Cut back the longer canes of purple and black raspberries to promote stocky growth and increased productivity.18. Serve brown rice in the place of the devitalized white product to gain the benefits of valuable vitamins and minerals.19. Spray peony shoots with Bordeaux mixture as soon as they appear through the ground. Repeat ten days later.20. Prepare soil at once for setting out strawberry plants within the next three weeks or sooner.

Feed the Lawn

21. Water all evergreens liberally when soil around them is dry. These plants often suffer for moisture in the spring.22. Ask the editor for a free copy of our shade and fruit tree feeding instructions.

23. Protect chicks from contact with older fowls to prevent coccidiosis, also from soils where older poultry have ranged.24. Set out a few extra early cabbage plants and prepare to protect them if sudden hard freezes come.25. Wise poultrymen feed yellow, not white, corn; the same important truth should be remembered in the kitchen.26. Give the lawn a feeding of 6-8-6 fertilizer at the rate of 2 to 3 pounds per 100 square feet and water the fertilizer into the soil at once. Do not top dress with manure or lime.27. Sow sweet pepper seed under glass for plants to set out after the soil is warm and frost dangers are past.28. Spray all rose plants with lize-sulphur or Bordeaux mixture just before leaves begin to open.29. Build houses to welcome bird back this spring.30. Make additional planting of radishes, beets and lettuce.31. Remember to write the editor whenever any unsolved problems arise in matters of lawn, garden and farm."E" is the most frequently used small letter in English, "S" is the most frequently used capital letter.

Any Questions?

Questions arising in matters of lawn, garden, orchard and farm during March cannot be postponed without their effects showing in crop yields later in the season. The editor urges readers to check over their problems of last year and plans for this year and write him for all the information and assistance desired. Inquiries will be answered without charge by return personal mail. Merely enclose a 3-cent stamp.Address letters to The Get-

THE DOCTOR CAN WAIT

★ How often have you heard it said, "I've paid all my bills except the doctor's. He can wait?"

When we have recovered, the fearful urgency of that night call is easily forgotten. In answer to our frantic call, what if the doctor had said, "Oh, it's nothing serious. Wait until morning and come down to the office." The chances are we would agree to pay double if he would come at once.

Health is not an item for trade and barter. In fact, the only wealth is health. Consider your doctor bill as your best investment in the continued enjoyment of life. As pharmacists, we stand ready to fill your prescriptions promptly and accurately.

Most Closed Banks' Real Estate Sold

Harrisburg, March 1 (AP)—The state banking department reported today that only a few parcels of real estate taken as assets of closed banks and building and loan associations remain unsold.
Secretary William C. Freeman said cash collections last year amounted to $3,100,000, including proceeds from settlements of 313 real properties, compared with $3,400,000 and 233 settlements in 1943. Eight public auction sales were held last year in the Philadelphia area, Freeman said, and 207 properties appraised at $798,000 were sold for $772,000.

Liquidation in Erie and Harrisburg districts is practically completed, he added.

BRUNNER BILL TO BE STUDIED

Harrisburg, March 1 (AP)—The House will be given a week to study administration amendments to the controversial Brunner anti-pollution bill before it is called up for a vote.

The measure, banning dumping of mine silt into streams, will be given two of three necessary readings next week by an agreement and then set down for action Monday night, March 12.

The Democratic minority, meanwhile, planned to go over the changes in the bill at a caucus Monday night.

Republican leaders indicated there were no immediate plans for a party caucus on the measure.

Approved at a stormy session of the House Public Health and Sanitation committee by a 11-3 vote, the amended measure would allow the state sanitary water board to determine when the discharge of any industrial waste after treatment or sedimentation constitutes pollution and set up standards for purity of water.

The board also would decide when enforcement should begin in cases where material is unavoidable due to the war with a proviso that it should in no case be more than a year after the agency determines equipment is obtainable. In other

Removal Of OPA Official Demanded

New York, March 1 (AP)—Removal of John Madigan as chief of the OPA's livestock division and an investigation of the entire meat industry have been asked by representatives of 12 slaughtering and retail meat organizations from six eastern states.

The action was taken here yesterday at a meeting of the organizations, which claim a membership of 25,000 retailers and 1,125 independent slaughterers in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Morris H. Cohn, representing the New Jersey Slaughterers' Association, said that Madigan was "not out for the good of the industry—he's out to protect big packers."

An inter-state committee to press for the investigation and Madigan's removal was named.

In Washington, Madigan said he had no comment.

600 Idle Miners Ordered To Work

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 1 (AP)—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America have directed the 600 idle miners of the Nottingham colliery of the Glen Alden company to return to their jobs today, ending a two-day work stoppage.

John Sabol, UMW district representative, said the miners refused to work Tuesday after two men had been ordered by a foreman to unload rock and double up as transportation employees.

Later in the day the miners voted to continue the work stoppage again yesterday.

Structural sections as long as 480 feet were towed to the coast of France to provide harbors for the invasion.

cases enforcement would start 60 days following enactment.

PRODUCTION OF WAR MATERIAL MUST CONTINUE

New York, March 1 (AP)—William L. Batt said today war production must continue full speed for "big military landings" in the Pacific and land fighting on perhaps the European scale.

The Army and Air Forces will have to be "pretty completely re-equipped" to fight Japan, the War Production Board Vice Chairman said in an address prepared for a Rotary club luncheon.

Batt announced staggering figures on America's production—now equal to that of "all our Allies and enemies" combined—but forecast that Germany's fall will permit less than a 20 per cent reconversion to peacetime goods.

Confirms AP Story

"I can tell you that our military men may not use much of the equipment they have employed in Europe against the Japanese," Batt said, since other types of material are needed and the task of assembling and reshipping across the world is "simply not practicable."

The WPB official thus corroborated an Associated Press report of January 31 with which Secretary of War Stimson took issue last week. The story stated that American troops so transferred would leave the bulk of their equipment behind and would be armed anew.

(Stimson told Rep. Engel, (R-Mich.), by letter that Army policy called for "maximum transfer" to the Pacific of everything that could be effectively used there.)

75,000 Tanks

Batt disclosed in his address that this country has sent 28,471 heavy bombers—Liberators, Fortresses and the huge new Superbombers—into the air. These were among munitions totals announced for the first time, covering the period from the start of the defense program in July, 1940, to the end of 1944.

All types of planes numbered 246,845, of which 79,776 were fighters and 19,547 were transports.

"In merchant vessels we have produced 45,384,000 deadweight tons of ocean-going cargo ships. Of naval vessels there has been constructed no fewer than 56,697. x x x

"The President wanted 45,000 tanks. Well, we have actually turned out 75,000 tanks. x x x

Huge Jap Army

"We have produced 37,198,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition x x x 2,927,502 short tons of ground artillery ammunition x x x 4,130,000 short tons of aircraft bombs, 59,646,000 grenades."

But, Batt said, this does not permit extensive planning for reconversion.

Saying the Japanese land army now is about as large as the German army at its peak, Batt added:

"Our present Naval operations and victories must certainly be preliminary to big military landings somewhere. At the end of supply lines three times as long as those that have separated us from the Germans, and lacking an advance Fortress base such as we had in Britain, we must conduct a land war, possibly of a scale comparable to that we have waged in Europe, at that tremendous distance."

Topeka, Kan. (AP)—Staff Sgt. Billy Wagner of Virginia and Lt. Wilbur B. Gerlock of Kansas had an argument in France about the quality of cookies from their home states.

Sergeant Wagner wrote to Gov. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas challenging him to make Gerlock's claims good. The Governor turned the problem over to Daisie, his cook, and she started preparing a batch of her best cookies — and maybe fruit cake — as proof.

Philip Wylie once wrote a 100,000 word novel in nine days while crossing the Atlantic.

7 INJURED IN PENNSY WRECK

Steubenville, O., March 1 (AP)—Fifteen sleeping passengers in a roomette Pullman of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastbound "Spirit of St. Louis" flyer narrowly escaped death today when the car plunged about 35 feet from a trestle into a shallow creek.

Seven persons were hurt, one seriously. Witnesses said there miraculously were no fatalities.

The derailed car was the ninth in a train of 11 Pullmans, a club and dining car. As it broke and toppled from the trestle, two others were jolted and almost fell over from the bridge but the others remained upright.

Several of the passengers in the compartment car fought their way out the front end to find themselves in waist deep water. The creek was higher than normal because of heavy rains.

Most occupants however, were able to make their way to safety from the partly submerged car without wading through the cold creek waters. They were taken into other Pullmans and given blankets and coffee.

Some of them lost their clothes, luggage and money. One Philadelphian saved only his pajamas and a shirt.

About 50,000 civilians in England were employed on secret projects which provided harbors for the invasion of France.

Reading Transit Strike Goes On

Reading, Pa., March 1 (AP)—Union and company representatives were scheduled to meet today (3 p. m.) with Mayor J. Henry Stump in an effort to end a five-day work stoppage of approximately 325 transit workers and restore transportation service in the Reading-Lebanon area.

Officials of the Reading Street Railway company, which serves 99,000 persons in the Lebanon-Reading area, and the Amalgamated Association of Electric Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees assured Mayor Stump they would attend today's meeting.

Meanwhile, however, the street railway employees, who voted Sunday to continue the work stoppage which began earlier in the day, remained idle again today despite a Regional War Labor Board directive to return to work. The RWLB has continued to withhold results of a hearing Saturday on the union's dispute.

A union spokesman said the chief point of the dispute was a request for time and a half pay for all hours in excess of the 40-hour work week.

Pittsburgh, (AP)—What must be at least a cousin to the invisible giant rabbit of the Broadway comedy hit "Harvey," was shot near here by a hunter. Besides being visible, the rabbit was the largest and heaviest rabbit ever to thump his way into Allegheny county. It measured 38 inches in length, seven inches across and weighed 20 pounds.

Heroes From Front To Spur Production

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Three Pennsylvanians, members of an army team of 56 combat veterans which will serve as "personal emissaries" of General Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander, will tour war plants to spur workers to increase production for Allied needs.

The men, many of them heroes of the battle of Bastogne, were picked from the 101st Airborne Division and Third Army units. The men will be split into nine groups and will begin their tour from Washington this week.

The veterans, just returned from the western front, include: First Lt. James R. Hill, Swissvale, and Clair L. Hess, Blairsville, and Sgt. Joseph G. Pinelli, Morrisville.

The Fellowship Of Prayer

The Secret of Blessedness: "Blessed are the poor in spirit—" "Who feel poor in spirit." (Moffatt.) "Who seek their spiritual need." (Goodspeed.) Matthew 5:3. Read Proverbs 29-33. Isaiah 57:15. Micah 6:8.

So much is gone as we listen to the timeless music of the Beatitudes which, if we could only recover it, would help us so much. The look on Jesus' face is gone, the overtones of his voice are gone, even the words he actually used are gone for our Beatitudes are the translation of a translation of a vanished language.

But this seems clear, a sense of need is the first condition of any gain or growth in knowledge and goodness.

No teacher can do anything with a scholar who knows it all to begin with. It is only as we feel our need that we can be in any fashion helped from any source. Humility is not a colorless, negative attitude. It is the seed bed of any growth.

Those who have thought too highly of themselves, established in their own conceit have never been the hope of any cause. They are richest in their souls who know how poor they are in spirit compared with what they might be and they are wisest who know how little they know. No wonder Jesus began the Beatitudes and the Sermon on the Mount, with blessing all those who, because they had and were so little, were nevertheless in their longings and teachableness the hope of His kingdom.

Prayer: Grant unto us, our Father, such a sure sense of how much we need compared with what we have of wisdom, grace and goodness that our willingness to be taught may be the opportunity for Thy truth; our longing to be good, the door through which Thy transforming spirit may reach and change us. Amen.

Sailor And Wife Shooting Victims

Brookville, Pa., March 1 (AP)—A 37-year-old sailor and his social worker wife were found shot to death in their apartment here last night.

The body of Mrs. Leigh Fulton Johns, 35, was found in the bathroom while that of her husband, Motor Machinist's Mate Wayne R. Johns lay in an adjoining room. A .32-caliber revolver was found in the bathroom.

Police broke into the apartment after relatives reported they hadn't seen the couple in several days. Coroner Fred Byers said he would not hold an inquest after issuing a verdict of murder-suicide.

Rats are now used for pregnancy tests because they cost only 40 cents and give the report in two hours.

17,500 DETROIT WAR WORKERS NOW ON STRIKE

Detroit, March 1 (AP)—The number of striking war plant employees in the Detroit area mounted to approximately 17,500 today as 4,000 day shift workers of the Briggs Manufacturing company's Mack avenue plant left their jobs.

The Briggs walkout came as the National War Labor Board and the International United Automobile Workers (CIO) sought to end the six day strike of 13,500 employees of Chrysler Corporation's Dodge main plant.

Besides the strikers more than 3,500 other workers in Detroit war plants have been made idle by the Dodge stoppage.

Stop Work on Planes, Tanks
The Briggs strike, like that at the Dodge plant, followed the discharge of a group of workers. Dismissing a shop committeeman and six stewards, the Briggs management said they had been primarily responsible for 57 work stoppages at the plant since December 7, 1941.

The Briggs strikers are members of Local 212, UAW-CIO. There was no immediate comment from the union.

The strike at the Dodge main plant has stopped production of bomber engine parts, rockets, anti-aircraft cannon and other war material. The Briggs Mack avenue plant has been making various types of aircraft parts and tank assemblies.

The International UAW-CIO went over the heads of local union leaders today in an effort to end the Dodge plant strike.

German Raiders In Clash With Eighth

Rome, March 1 (AP)—German raiding parties, striking across the Senio river south of the Russi-Lugo road, about 17 miles inland from the Adriatic coast, have driven Eighth Army troops from some of their positions. Allied headquarters announced today.

Allied forces promptly counter-attacked and took a number of prisoners, but part of the German forces still remain on the east bank of the stream.

Two other strong enemy fighting patrols stabbed across the Senio immediately south of the main Faenza-Bologna highway at night and attacked Eighth Army strongpoints, but were driven back.

FLOOD PERIL ON SUSQUEHANNA

(By The Associated Press)

Fearful of a flood threat for the past week, most Pennsylvania residents relaxed today and watched the river ebb toward normalcy in both the eastern and western sections of the state.

Only along the Susquehanna river in York and Lancaster counties remained the last semblance of possible serious inundation.

Fifteen families of Turkey Hill, near York, fled their homes yesterday in advance of rising waters, forced over the Susquehanna banks by an ice gorge.

Shifting ice and water pressure snapped poles, shutting off electric current in that area.

Across the river in Lancaster county's Washington Boro, some residents prepared to evacuate their homes as the mounting waters threatened to flood the town.

In western Pennsylvania, the Ohio river continued to ebb today, after hitting a crest of 27.8 feet early yesterday, less than three feet over floodstage. The waters fell below 25 feet today—floodstage—and were expected to be back at a normal 16-feet by tomorrow or Saturday.

"FOOT CASE" SOLVED

Kane, Pa., March 1 (AP)—Police closed the books today on the case of the missing foot. The foot, found at Marienville in a box car of broken glass shipped from Philadelphia, was revealed on examination to have been amputated after death, police said.

T. SGT. ELGIN IS CITED WITH HIS UNIT OVERSEAS

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England. (By Mail)—Technical

Sergeant Eugene Elgin, Jr., 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Elgin, Sr., East Berlin, is a member of an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress squadron recently cited by the commanding general of its combat wing for maintenance and operational excellence.

The unit's bombers had the lowest number of mechanical failures resulting in turnbacks short of the targets of any squadron in the combat wing during a recent month. It also had the fewest turnbacks for its heavy bombardment group in the past year of bombing attacks upon German military and industrial targets.

Sgt. Elgin was the radio operator of a Flying Fortress until grounded because of a broken ankle. He is now drawing maps in the Intelligence section of the base. Prior to entering the Army Air Forces in August, 1942, he was a topic draftsman for Federal Roads Administration, Harrisburg.

Lauded By Commander

His squadron commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Thomas F. Kenny, Jr., 24, Youngstown, Ohio, is in the 38th Bombardment group under the command of Colonel George Y. Jumper, Natoma, California. The group is a part of the Third Air division.

After announcing the citation at a squadron meeting Lt. Col. Kenny said, "Although the greater part of the credit for getting our Forts over the targets belongs to the mechanics, other technicians, and to the flying personnel, all other members of the unit contribute to the maintenance and operational efficiency of the organization."

"I wish to express my appreciation for the loyalty, interest, and teamwork of each man in making our superior record possible."

The bombers of the squadron have dropped thousands of tons of bombs upon such German objectives as war factories, airfields, oil refineries, railroad yards, and military defense points. They took a vital part in the aerial offensive against German troop concentrations during the invasion and the drive across France and Belgium to the Nazi border.

John Orndorff, Joseph Clabaugh, and Norman Weaver, who enlisted in the Coast Guard service and Joseph Orndorff, who enlisted in the Navy, left Tuesday to receive their training.

Mrs. F. C. Marino and Mrs. William Travers, of Baltimore, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Miller and family.

Cpl. Roger Gebhart, who recently returned from combat duty in the South Pacific, is now stationed at Great Bend, Kans.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Notice is hereby given that on April 1, 1945, interest rates on all time deposits and savings accounts will be reduced to 1% per annum by the banks listed below. Interest on savings accounts may be compounded semi-annually and time certificates outstanding on the effective date of the interest reduction will continue to bear interest at the rate at which they were written until their maturity or for a period not to exceed one year from their issue date.

National Bank of Arendtsville
Bendersville National Bank
Biglerville National Bank
East Berlin National Bank
Peoples State Bank of East Berlin
First National Bank of Fairfield
Farmers and Merchants Bank, New Oxford

(Members Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation)

All of the above listed banks are members of the Adams County Bankers Association, and this action will make the interest rates on deposits uniform among the Adams County banks after April 1 due to the fact that all of the other member banks have previously reduced interest rates to 1%. This is in line with action previously taken by banks in adjoining counties, and it appears that 1% is the rate now being paid by practically all banks in this section of the country.

The reasons for low interest rates are so well understood by the public that it is not felt that an explanation of this action is necessary. Certainly the local bank has no magic formula which can nullify the effects of the forces set in motion by World War II and government policies prior thereto. The local bank does not, in the last analysis, determine interest rates. They are determined by powers far beyond its control. Your local banker hopes with you that this condition will be temporary and will end with the return of peace to the world, and he hopes for your continued indulgence, patronage, and good will.

Notice to Depositors

Effective April 1st, 1945, interest will be paid at the rate of 1% on savings accounts and certificates of deposit with this bank.

In line with its traditional policy of safety to its depositors, the Bank invests in Government Bonds. The rate of income from these securities has been declining for many years, and consequently a proportionate reduction in the interest rate to depositors becomes necessary.

Since Pearl Harbor the Bank has, in direct support of the war effort, more than doubled its holdings of United States Government Bonds, thereby increasing such holdings by a sum considerably larger than the increase in deposits during the same period.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES, THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1945

Campaign For $1,300 For Red Cross War Fund To Open Soon In Emmitsburg

COMMUNITY TOPPED 1944 DRIVE QUOTA

George L. Wildhide, cashier of the Farmers' bank of Emmitsburg and chairman of the Emmitsburg district for the annual American Red Cross War Fund Drive, announced today that the campaign in his district will begin within the next week.

The Emmitsburg district quota this year is $1,300 and an effort to "go over the top" will be stressed in the appeal of all canvassers for funds this year, Mr. Wildhide said.

Although the $1,300 quota for this year is $100 more than the $1,200 quota assigned in 1944 to the Emmitsburg district of the Frederick county chapter of the Red Cross, Mr. Wildhide said he anticipates that the people in this area "will not fall short in their efforts to provide the necessary services for American boys, many of them from the Emmitsburg area, who are fighting overseas."

To List Solicitors

Last year the Emmitsburg section raised a total of $1,780 for the Red Cross War Fund, an oversubscription of $580 above the allotted quota and Mr. Wildhide said he "is hopeful that our people will do equally as well in topping the $1,300 quota for the 1945 drive."

Mr. Wildhide and his co-chairman, A. L. Leary, will announce the list of canvassers for both Emmitsburg and the surrounding territory within the next few days and supplies of membership cards, report forms and collection envelopes and other material will be distributed so that work can be completed as rapidly as possible.

The National Red Cross headquarters has requested that all returns for the 1945 War Fund be made if possible by March 15 in order that the collections be completed in the shortest practical time.

Seek Larger Gifts

Mr. Wildhide said that this year's drive in the Emmitsburg section will have to be intensified in order to allow everyone to contribute to the War Fund and help Emmitsburg over-subscribe its quota as in the past. Part of the $580 oversubscription last year included over $300 from the large Naval training unit that was stationed at Mt. St. Mary's college and was solicited by a Red Cross field worker who was staying at the school. This year the number of trainees at Mt. St. Mary's is greatly reduced and there is no Red Cross field man there.

The Emmitsburg quota was increased this year in line with an overall national increase of $20,000,000 which was made necessary by the increased activities on all of the world battlefronts. Although it was forecast last fall, when the battle progress record looked very favorable, that there would be a reduction in the War Fund quota, the changing situation during the winter made an increase necessary.

The disastrous setbacks by the German armies during the winter, and the consequential lengthening of the war was one of the big factors in the necessary increase. A second large factor is the enlargement of Red Cross facilities and duties for civilians in reoccupied countries. The areas have been so devastated by battle and through plundering by the Nazis that Red Cross aid is imperative for the survival and rehabilitation of the people.

New Mangers For Bar, Restaurant

J. Emory Ohler and his son, Clarence Ohler have assumed the management and operation of the bar and restaurant at the Mundorff hotel, Center Square in Emmitsburg.

The change was effective February 1. Mrs. L. L. Mundorff, hotel proprietor, will continue to operate the lodging facilities at the hotel.

PFC. TOPPER HOME FROM ALASKAN DUTY

Pfc. Walter A. Topper, 20, son of Mrs. Stella Topper, 129 DePaul street, Emmitsburg, is spending a 30-day furlough at his home after having returned from 18 months' duty with the army in Alaska and the Aleutians.

Private Topper served as a truck driver with an infantry unit while in the northland and went into the Aleutians right after the Japs had been cleared from Attu. He served there twice and also was stationed for a time at Nome and Anchorage, Alaska.

The Emmitsburg soldier will have been in the army two years on March 10. After attending Emmitsburg schools, he worked for a time at the East End garage in Emmitsburg and then was inducted.

Brothers Serving

He trained in this country at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and another camp in western Pennsylvania before going to Alaska. At the conclusion of his furlough he will report for duty to a camp in Oklahoma.

Private Topper has three brothers in the service, all of them serving overseas. His oldest brother, Leo Topper, 26, seaman second class in the United States Navy, is stationed at Trinidad where he is a member of the Navy Air Forces ground crew. He has been in the navy about a year and a half. A second brother, Pfc. Raymond Topper, 22, who has been in the army for two years, is stationed somewhere in the south Pacific. Pvt. Donald Topper, 18, now is serving in Germany. He was inducted into the service last August.

It is estimated that one out of every 200 people has some form of epilepsy.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By LYNN HEINZERLING (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Rome, (AP)—The American soldier in Italy—you can take it from "Stars and Stripes," the Army newspaper—is the most inquisitive, the most argumentative and the quickest man with a bet in the world.

Two doughboys get to arguing in a ditch up in the mountains and lay a bet. The next step is a letter to "Stars and Stripes." An argument starts in a chow line and right after the mess-kits are washed somebody sits down to ask "Ask Stars and Stripes."

Sometimes the newspaper has to turn a full page of these questions to make space in the Mail Call department. Mail Call has been asked for the correct spelling of "pentayeryttritetratrate" and the population of Izzard, Ark.

Some Tough Ones

One soldier wrote to ask "Where does sound go when you can't hear it anymore?"

In the latest batch of bafflers was this one: "Did we ever let the Japanese have practice landings on some of our islands in the Pacific?"

Here are some more which "Stars and Stripes" said give a "rough idea."

"What will the labor problem be after the war with all these new machines coming on the market?"

"Is Fisher's Island a part of New York city, New York state or Connecticut?"

"The distance from Chicago to Camp McCoy, Wis.?"

"What is the largest seaport in Italy?"

"Where is the busiest corner in the States?"

Might Try Quiz Kids

"What proportion of the entire vote was cast for the Nazis at the last free and uncontrolled election by the German people?"

"Was Marc Antony really afraid of Octavius? Didn't he turn to Cleopatra in order to escape the dominant character over him?"

"Which is the largest oil producing field in the world?"

"Recently I saw the exhibition of paintings at the Piazza Venezia. I was especially impressed by Titan's 'Two Loves' yet I was wondering if young Petrarca, who on Good Friday of 1327 stood in the Church of Santa Chiara in Avignon of the Popes, was really the inspiration for the painting?"

"Where did the expression 'okay' come from?"

"Was the Lindbergh kidnap trial the greatest trial tried in the U. S. courts?"

"Could you tell me the world speed record for the flight of a carrier pigeon?"

"Will you please inform us in regards to just what town is the richest per capita in the United States?"

"If a plane going 300 mph. fires its guns do the bullets go at the same speed as if the plane was standing still on the ground or would they go forward faster than the muzzle velocity in relation to the ground?"

One Good Answer

"A few of the boys and myself were having a little discussion as to what state was holding the largest per cent of war production orders?"

"A group of us G.I.'s from up north claim it has snowed at one time or another in Florida but one of the fellows who is from Florida says we are all wet."

"If a tree fell and there was no one around to hear it would there be sound? They say there would be and I say there would not be."

There weren't any answers, but in a neighboring column labelled "Pup-Tent Poets" there was this useful information from Pvt. Irving H. Fox.

"The cloth in the socks' holes goes, my friends, To the same place as the hole around which a doughnut bends."

Chapter 27
O'Shane smoked his cigarette, ground the stub into the sawdust and made another. In succession a third and a fourth went up in smoke. Curiously, the barkeep eyed the silent redhead, then looked through the fly-specked window at the sinister watcher lounging in the shadow, the lower part of his body in bright sunlight.

Three times Parker strolled casually past the saloon, glanced in, nodded and continued on his way. The light slowly crept up the body of the silent figure across the street as the sun arced downward towards the west. A little of cigarette butts around him. O'Shane still leaned against the bar, tensed and waiting. Peering, the barkeep saw the stranger jerk impatiently upright, pace up and down the plank walk with quick, jerky steps, then turn abruptly and step into the street.

O'Shane threw away a half-smoked cigarette, twirled the cylinder of his .45, eased down the hammer, slipped the gun gently into leather and moved towards the door. When he emerged from the saloon, his opponent was halfway across the street, clean-cut in the glaring sunlight.

At the sight of the redhead, the oncoming man's gun leapt from the holster. A flash and the window behind O'Shane splintered with a sharp crack. He heard the barkeep throw himself on the floor. Squinting against the sun, the gunman again threw down. In the shadows, the redhead weaved swiftly sideways, his own gun uplifted. As the stranger's iron flared and thundered a second time, his gun spoke in reply. As though checked by an invisible hand, the stranger jerked to a stop. His extended arm sagged under the weight of the gun. O'Shane's weapon roared again. The stranger's knees quivered. Slowly, he sank down and sprawled upon his face in the dust.

Without a backward glance, the redhead reholstered his gun and stepped through the batwings. Popping up from behind the bar, the barkeep glanced first at O'Shane's grim features and then at the still figure outspread on the rutted road. "Jeez!" he breathed. "You're a slow starter, but you work fast when you do get going!"

"I was waiting for the sun," explained O'Shane patiently. "Gimme a bourbon!"

"Waiting—for the sun?"

"Yep. That galoot," he jerked his head towards the street, "is, was, the fastest gun fanner in the southwest. He can beat me on the draw any time, but it's hell shooting straight with the sun in your eyes."

"I'll be doggoned!" muttered the barkeep, sliding over a bottle. "You got brains!"

At the ranch that afternoon O'Shane paid off the remainder of the crew, retaining two men to handle the remnants of the Turkey herds. After supper, he looked in at the house to discuss the possibilities of renewing the Colonel's note at the bank.

Viola sat in a rocker on the gallery, enjoying the cool night breeze. She motioned him to another chair.

"It's no use, O'Shane," she confessed, with a resigned sigh. "A woman can't keep a secret. If I don't unburden my soul I'll burst."

"You ain't—sold out?"

"My goodness, no. Neither has Joan—exactly."

"What d'ye mean?" The redhead's voice reflected the suppressed eagerness within.

"Well, she sold the Double O, but she didn't sell the three sections in the upper part of the Valley that Wacker wants so badly."

"He wouldn't buy without them."

broke in O'Shane. "The ranch ain't worth ten thousand—as a ranch. Si's buying the dam site."

"He didn't know!" she replied coolly. "Joan agreed to sell the Double O. You know how difficult it is to identify land from a written document, bristling with deadly legal phrases. Joan simply turned over a deed to the ranch, but the boundaries specified exclude the upper Valley."

"I reckon that was your idea?" queried O'Shane, after a pause.

"It was," she acknowledged calmly. "Joan wanted to sell. She obtained a good price and this Wacker gets—a lemon."

"Won't Si be sore when he finds out he's been outfoxed—by a woman?" grinned the redhead. Then his face sobered. "There'll be hell to pay when he gets wise. Does Parker know?"

"Not unless Joan has told him."

O'Shane rose to his feet. "I'm riding in right now to put Parker wise. Wacker's liable to commit murder."

"Why so anxious to warn Parker?"

"He's going to marry her."

as O'Shane rode past the silent plank walk.

Piling out of the saddle outside the Marshal's office, he rapped upon the door. The sound echoed hollowly through the building and awoke a drunk in the calaboose. The prisoner's maudlin shouts swelled the din, but there was no response from the Marshal.

O'Shane tried the office door. It opened. Stepping inside, he peered into Parker's bedroom. The bunk was empty, the disheveled blankets thrown back as though he had been hastily aroused.

The Philippine island of Mindanao is 36,000 miles square and has 2,000,000 inhabitants.

"Not Joan Cuzan! Why, how wonderful! Another of my admirer's snatched away. You're not hiding a beautiful senorita in town, are you?" She rose, stepped close, face uplifted, pouting.

O'Shane backed hastily. "Not me, m'sam. I ride around 'em. I know when I'm well off."

"You brute!" Chuckling at her indignant exclamation, he hastened towards the corral.

It was midnight when O'Shane loped past the darkened railway depot into Big River. The main street was deserted, save for a few ponies hunched at the hitching rails outside saloons. A full moon silvered the sleeping town and threw an elongated shadow or horse and rider

as O'Shane rode past the silent plank walk.

To Revamp Housing Development Program

Harrisburg, March 1 (AP) — A proposed housing development program, including participation by life insurance companies, was ordered revamped by the Pennsylvania Post-war Planning Commission.

Pending action by the commission, Director Mark S. James withheld details of the plan submitted yesterday by Abraham L. Freedman, special housing counsel of the commission as a preliminary report of Pennsylvania's housing problem.

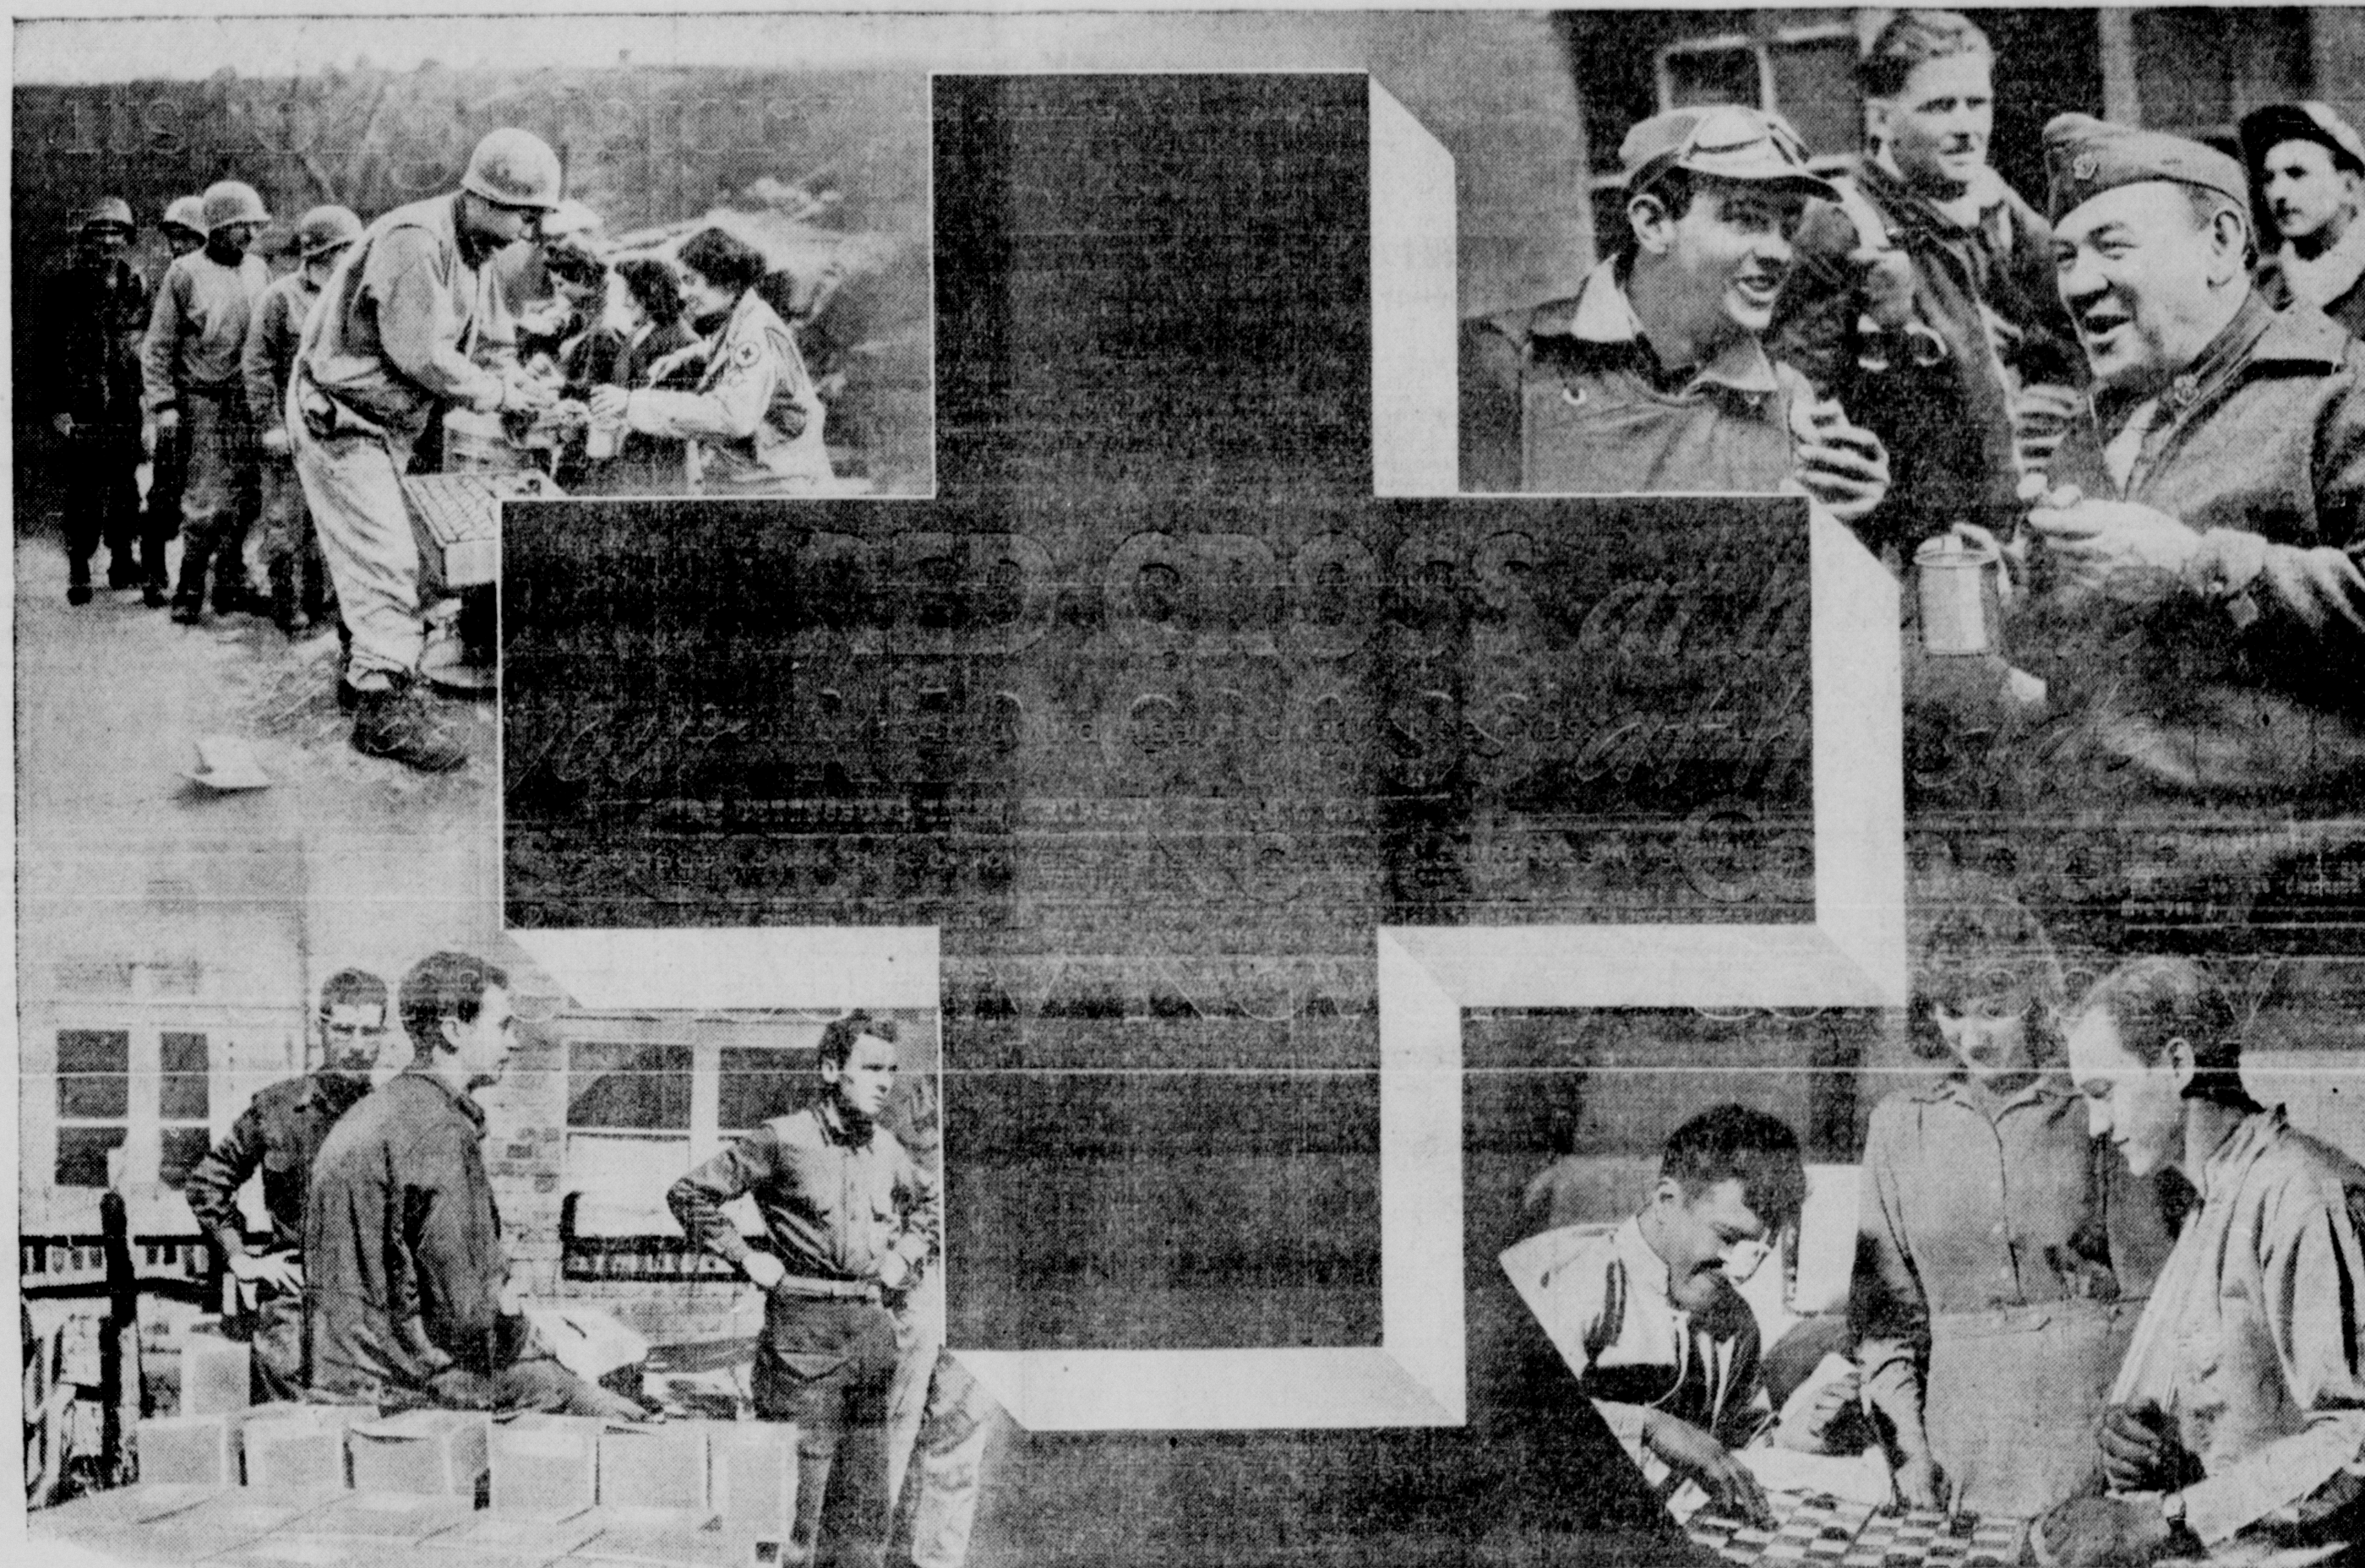

Under existing law, life insurance companies may only purchase such real estate as they need to conduct their business. Any properties acquired through mortgage investments must be disposed of within five years.

Your Red Cross faces the greatest task in its long history

This is the most important appeal for funds in the history of the American Red Cross.

After three years of war the work of your Red Cross is greater than ever. It must serve millions of our fighting men abroad. Lonely men. Homesick men. Wounded men. The Red Cross, always at their side, helps to bring them cheer and comfort wherever they may be.

It lends a helping hand to the thousands of returning service men—sick, wounded—desperately in need of friendly guidance.

And remember, YOU...and you alone...keep the Red Cross alive. For without your help there could be no Red Cross. There are no special funds to keep up its great humanitarian work. The money must come, as always, from the heart of America—you!

Our duty is clear...we must keep the Red Cross at the side of our fighting men and our wounded heroes. We must help the Red Cross in its vital job of sending food and medicine to war prisoners...aiding the ill and lonely overseas...collecting life-giving blood plasma.
